Summer Spotlight: Farm to Summer

Summer is a time of rich agricultural abundance and sponsors across the country are benefiting from the season’s bounty by including local products and food-related activities into their summer meals programs. Now is the perfect time to connect with your local agriculture community and begin planning for Farm to Summer success! Summer meal sponsors and sites can incorporate Farm to Summer activities into their programs by serving locally sourced items in their meals and snacks or offering educational activities that teach children about local foods and healthy habits.

Winter is the Perfect time to start planning for Summer!
Here are some tips for what you can be doing right now to get ready for another successful summer:

- Check out the 2017 Area Eligibility List to see if you can recruit sites to these areas that are unserved or underserved.
- Reach out to sites that were underutilized and together brainstorm ideas about how to increase participation this year.
- Determine which of your sites will be returning and meet with community partners.
- Reach out to new and existing partners in your community. Strong community partnerships help fuel strong summer feeding programs.
