Proactive Planning

Providing Summer Meals is a year-round effort. It is never too early to start thinking about how to maintain and expand your summer meals program. Here are some general points to help you start thinking about your program for next year!

Fall

- Ensure that all claims for reimbursement have been filed.
- Consolidate daily meals counts and submit reimbursement claims.
- Take time to reflect on the summer with site administrators and what could be improved or what worked.
- Reflect on the service provided by your vendor. Ensure the food was well-received by the children. Revise menus as needed.
- Review unserved or underserved areas near current sites. Recruit sites to these areas of need.
- Compare participation from this year to that of prior years, as well as current participation for free and reduced-price meals in local schools.
- Reach out to sites that were underutilized and offer support to increase participation for the coming year.
- Consider providing nonmonetary awards to recognize sites that excelled during the summer.

Things to think about for next summer......

- Consider expanding your program to include weekend meals.
- Instead of closing your sites 2 weeks before school starts, consider keeping them open to help fill in the food gap before the school year begins.
- Re-evaluate your operation times. Are you reaching the maximum number of children during your time of operation?
